

Edward Chadwick

Edward Chadwick is a nationally recognized finance leader with over 35 years' experience in tax-exempt health care. Mr. Chadwick is currently EVP and CFO of Henry Ford Health System, one of the nation's leading integrated regional health systems with $6 billion of revenue, a mature 1,300 physician group practice, extensive hospital and retail operations, and a $2.5 billion health plan operating in all market segments. Previously Mr. Chadwick was system CFO of a large national Catholic system (Trinity), and a nationally recognized academic health system (Wake Forest Baptist). Mr. Chadwick currently sits on the National Board of the Healthcare Financial Management Association.

Mr. Chadwick has deep experience relative to strategic and financial planning, mergers and acquisitions, performance improvement, organizational change, analytics and financial and clinical operations. He has been recognized as a leader in innovative treasury strategy, including extensive use of integrated asset liability management to optimize the "bank side" of health systems. He has also been a leader in driving transformation to pay-for-value and population health, and has been a long term outspoken champion for quality, safety and leveraging mission.

Mr. Chadwick has an MBA from the University of Chicago with specialization in Finance and a BS in Economics from the University of Michigan.